Our Timber Interests.

Probably by far the most important of the resources of this Province, both as an article of commerce and as a means of furnishing remunerative employment to laboring men, is that of our manufactures of lumber and spars for home consumption and exportation abroad. Compared with this, our gold mines are really insignificant. It is true, at the present moment the annual yield of the mines far exceed in value the annual product of our forests; but that is to be accounted for on two grounds. First, the miner needs but a small amount of capital wherewith to enter upon his work of prospecting for the precious metal, and consequently the inexpensiveness of mining—i.e. what is commonly called placer mining—and the attractiveness that attaches to the pursuit of gold in its natural state, is an inducement for men of small means to engage in mining speculations. Secondly, because the development of our timber interests necessarily involves a heavy outlay of capital for mills, machinery, etc., before any work can be done, or returns be received for the capital thus invested. The manufacture of lumber, for the reasons stated, is as yet only in its infancy, but our forests are practically inexhaustible, and in view of the opening up of the country by means of railway communication and the consequent impetus that will thereby be given to the trade and commerce of this Province, we hazard little in predicting that ere many years shall have passed away, the annual value of the products of our forests will exceed that of any other of our native productions, not excepting even gold itself. In a recent issue of the Toronto Globe appeared a well written article on the subject of the timber trade in the Pacific, in which the writer adverts to the enormous trade which is being developed on Puget Sound, the shipments of lumber for the half-year ending July 1, 1872, having reached 118 856,561 feet. The customers for this vast quantity of lumber were found in England, Tahiti, Mexico, Australia, Russia, France, China, Valparaiso, Honolulu, Panama, Calcutta and Spain. A richly endowed as our neighbors are in respect of forest wealth. British Columbia is no less so, and although our trade in the article of lumber and spars is as yet far below that of Puget Sound, it is nevertheless steadily expanding, and every year becoming of greater importance. We have at present only three mills in operation manufacturing lumber for exportation, two at Burrard Inlet, on the Mainland, and one at Cowichan, on Vancouver Island. These three mills give employment the year round to from 400 to 500 men, and turn out from 25,000,000 to 30,000,000 feet of lumber, of the value of $250,000 or $300,000. Another decade will most likely see this branch of industry increased three or four fold what it is to-day, and it will then, as we have already remarked, stand at the head of our productive industries. The following extract from the Globe's article will not be without interest to our local readers, and as it contains valuable information concerning the timber resources of this Province, we publish it for the benefit of persons abroad who take an interest in the subject upon which it treats: "Leaving the production of gold, coal, and fish aside, as hardly within the scope of the present article, we cannot but regard with satisfaction the extensive virgin forests of valuable pine and cedar, besides other trees of less immediate importance, which cover a very large portion of the territory, and will furnish a field of industry and enterprise for the present and future generations. The Douglas pine, so named after Sir James Douglas, the pioneer Governor of Vancouver Island, together with the white pine and a valuable description of cedar, covers every mountain of the Cascade range, as well as the valleys, with a rich growth. The trees alike abound in the fertile bottom-lands and on the most sterile and precipitous crags. Of course, the quality of the timber differs in various localities, but its abundance is a matter of astonishment to new arrivals, even from eastern lumber districts. With the exception of the operations of a few mills, the principal of which are situate at Cowichan (Vancouver Island) and Burrard Inlet, on the mainland, the timber of the country as yet stands undisturbed. The Douglas pine is probably the most valuable variety of its kind. The exceedingly close growth of these trees accounts for their becoming straight and tall, and accordingly they are the most suitable known for ships' spars, for which purpose cargoes have frequently been sent to London and Marseilles, as well as to China, Singapore, and other places. It may be thought that the facts above mentioned, in which we have given Washington Territory full credit for its wonderful timber resources, should exercise a discouraging influence upon the investment of capital in lumbering operations in British Columbia. But a very important matter has to be mentioned. Puget Sound itself has no direct import trade, as it receives its supplies of provisions, dry goods, &c., from the neighboring cities of San Francisco, Portland, and Victoria, such importations being made in local coasting vessels. The ships which carry lumber to distant parts of the world are mostly large, and arrive in ballast, nearly all of them having brought cargoes to San Francisco, and as a matter of fact, they perform the voyage of nearly 900 miles from that port to the Sound at a dead loss. The large majority are not American, and many fly the British ensign. The greater number, therefore, of the visitors to Puget Sound are by the Navigation Laws absolutely prohibited from enjoying any share in the conveyance of freight from San Francisco, as it is under the laws of the United States a coasting voyage. No such restriction, however, would interfere with the carrying of as much or as little as might offer to British Columbia. Herein lies the opportunity for our Pacific Province, which, by offering a prompt supply of lumber or spars to all comers, will possess a manifest advantage over Washington Territory. It is quite certain, if at an equal distance from the Golden Gate cargoes can be furnished at the same price, shipowners will give a preference to the destination for which some freight can always be obtained, while the numerous opportunities placed thus at the disposal of Victoria merchants must greatly lessen the price of tonnage, and prove a substantial boon to importers. Unfortunately, at the present time, owing to the inadequate production of the Province, ships bringing freight to Victoria are often obliged to proceed to the Sound to obtain their cargoes of lumber, and so the natural advantage of the situation is unimproved. The great want of British Columbia is capital to develope her resources, and the openings to which we draw attention are neglected chiefly because they are unperceived. In conjunction with the development of the timber trade of the Province, local commerce must greatly expand. Victoria merchants should be in a position to offer either freight or charter to every foreign vessel arriving on the North Pacific coast, and should have agents in San Francisco to secure every ship entering the harbor. The great requirements are capital and enterprise, and British Columbia looks to the Eastern Provinces to supply these desiderata."

Court of Assize—Fourth Day—Prisoners Sentenced.

[Before the Chief Justice, and Mr. Justice Crease, and Mr. Justice Grey.]

FRIDAY, Nov. 29th, 1872.

The Supreme Court sat yesterday morning at 11:30 o'clock, for the purpose of passing sentence on the prisoners convicted during the past three days of the Assizes.

The first prisoner called to receive sentence was convicted of attempting to seduce naval seamen from the service.

Mr. Justice Crease addressing the prisoner said that he had been found guilty of a most heinous offence,—an offence which, if committed some years since and in the time of war, would have met with death as its punishment. Now, however, the law had been altered; the prisoner must have known that at the time he committed the crime he was actually endeavouring to rob the country of her stronghold, and cause her a loss of considerable value by the desertion of some of her seamen, as everyone of them cost the country at least £200 to bring here He would proceed to pass the sentence of the Court for the crime, which was that the prisoner be put to penal servitude for 18 months.

THOMAS STEVENSON

was the next prisoner called; his crime is, as our readers will remember, that of obtaining money under false pretence. There was considerable interest manifested in this case in the Court. The prisoner had nothing to say in mitigation of his sentence, and Mr. Justice Grey proceeded most eloquently and pathetically to pass sentence upon him. The learned Judge, speaking to the prisoner, said he was afraid that any observations he might make would have but very little effect upon him, he had committed a crime of a most serious character, and it was probably not the first time he had offended against the law. He felt pained at seeing the prisoner in the position he was in, for he appeared to be a man who had had a good education, rare opportunities, and the advantages of society. But it was a well-known fact that no man suddenly became guilty of great crimes; they were attained to, step by step, little by little; and to use plain English to the prisoner, he had been guilty of nothing better than a most complete course of "swindling" It had been pleaded in his defense that necessity compelled him to commit the crime he did, but surely no necessity on earth could compel him to enter the office of a banking firm here, present books, show forged figures, and make other misrepresentations, to induce those gentlemen of the bank to believe that he had an amount of $30,000 standing to his credit in another country, and at a branch of their own establishment. No necessity, however great, could compel him to draw the amount of money he did, for the actual wants of existence. Justice ceased to be justice if not administered with equity. He and his brother judges could hardly expect Indians and Chinamen to become amenable to the law, if such men as the prisoner were allowed to escape without severe punishment. The sentence of the Court was, and he pronounced it with great pain, on account of the age of the prisoner and the position he was in, "that he be kept to penal servitude for the next four years.

The prisoner was then removed.

AH YEN AND AH TOI,

convicted of robbery from the store of Messrs. Turner, Beeton & Tunstall, last year, about Christmas, were sentenced to three years each, in the chain-gang.

The prisoners remarked that they did not think justice had been shown them at their trial.

Mr Justice Crease differed with them, and told them (through an interpreter) that their case would be a warning to all other evilly disposed Chinamen.

BEN, THE COWICHAN INDIAN, convicted of manslaughter, with regard to another Indian named Jim, was next brought down.

Mr. Robertson, for the defense, handed in a certificate of the previous good character of the prisoner, signed by influential people.

Mr. Justice Crease told the prisoner that he had caused the death of his friend, but without, he thought, any malice at heart; had the case been otherwise, the sentence would have been much severer. He should also be thankful that the jury had recommended him strongly to mercy. The learned Judge further believed that the persons, speaking morally, who should be in the prisoner's place, were those who had supplied the unfortunate man with whisky, as they all knew well that when not under the influence of liquor, the prisoner was a good Indian in every respect. His crime must, however, meet with its due punishment, and that was penal servitude for nine months.

WILLIAM HALL

also stood convicted of manslaughter, for killing an Indian woman named Lucy.

Before sentence was passed on the prisoner, Mr. Bishop referred the Court to his excellent character.

Mr. Justice Grey sentenced the prisoner, but previous to doing so, reminded him that he had been indicted for the highest possible crime, viz., that of murder. He would also remind him that the unfortunate woman who had met with her death at his hands, held such a position towards him as called for his aid and protection. He had not shown one single particle of extenuating evidence to the Court, and he (the learned judge) could not discern in what respect he was not guilty of murder. But a kind and considerate jury had, with feeling for him, brought in a verdict of manslaughter only; he might, indeed, be thankful for this, for now he had no doubt many more years to live, and he trusted that during that time he might atone for the hideous crime he had been guilty of. Whatever might be the aspect of society he was moving in, he wished to remind him that one person was entitled to the consideration of that court and justice, as much as the next, whoever he might be. The Indian woman was just as much entitled to redress there, as the highest man in the land. The learned judge regretted exceedingly the prisoner's position; he was young, and apparently strong, mentally and physically, but he could not read his heart, nor could he say what induced him to commit the crime he was guilty of. He would remind him again that at the trial, he had shown no reason why it should not be murder; but the jury had treated him leniently, and he thought the court was serving moderately also, by passing a sentence of ten years' penal servitude.

HENRY RANDALL

convicted of forgery, said he was sorry that the loss of the money, caused by his guilt, fell upon Mr. Stafford, as that gentleman had never done him an injury. He was sorry he could not say so much for the other party, but he counted a man a very poor rascal indeed, who having brought himself within the pale of the law, had not the pluck to undergo the punishment for the offence.

He was sentenced to twelve months' hard labor.

HENRY NICHOLLS,

who pleaded guilty to common assault, was fined $10, or imprisonment until the same be paid.

Mr. Justice Grey, addressing the prisoner, told him that he had been indicted for a very grave offence, viz., that of assaulting a police officer in the execution of his duty. He wished the prisoner and every body in the court to distinctly understand that the police officers were men acting in the public interest; not in their own individual interest, and that they were therefore entitled to considerable deference. He was not yet well acquainted with the police force of this city, but judging from their appearance and general conduct, he must certainly call them a respectable and intelligent lot of officers; as such he should do his utmost to sustain them when acting rightly; when however, they went beyond their duty, they came under the law precisely the same as every body else In this case the evidence as to the arrest made by the police, had been conflicting, and the prisoner had gained the benefit of it; had he been convicted of the first counts, viz, rescuing a prisoner, and assaulting the police, his sentence would have been much severer.

ANTOINE, A GREEK,

whose case was connected with the preceding one, was fined $25.

Mr. Justice Grey called his attention to the fact that a plea of drunkenness would never mitigate sentences in that court. He noticed that half the cases here arose from drinking, but such would meet with no leniency at his hands.

PATRICK RYAN, was the next and last prisoner called. This was the defendant in the cutting case on board the Prince Alfred.

Mr. Robertson made an able appeal in his behalf, and asked that his sentence might be ameliorated as much as possible, on account of ill health, his good character, and his wife and family.

The prisoner said that the cutting was purely accidental, and that he knew nothing of it until the Captain asked him how he came to do it.

Mr. Justice Grey addressed the prisoner at some length, telling him what an abhorence the English law had for the use of the knife in any shape or form, except in actual self-defence, or that of one's wife or children. The prisoner he was glad to say, stood in a very favorable position before the court; he had been unwell for some time past, and was so at the time of the crime; he had not carried the knife about him for any unlawful purpose; and he had received great provocation and had been struck before retaliating. Every point had been fairly considered, and he might thank his God the affray had not terminated fatally. Providence alone had saved Biggar's life, and saved him from standing there a felon.

The sentence of the court was that he be kept in penal servitude for nine months.

The case of Brown, charged with murder at Plumper's Pass, was postponed until Wednesday week, the 11th day of December, at ten o'clock.

The court then adjourned until that date.

Police Court.

[Before A. F. Pemberton, Esq.]

FRIDAY, November 29th, 1872.

Thomas Shakespere was further remanded on three separate charges.

Wm. Sills, for employing a naval seaman, knowing him to be a deserter, was further remanded.

James Smith was charged with a similar offence, and was remanded till Monday.

Two men, brought up for being drunk and disorderly, were fined.

James Wright, for supplying Indians with liquor, was sent back to prison until Monday

RICH AND RARE.—The public can see at Frank Campbell's a very fine and rich specimen of silver ore from the Victoria mine, Fort Hope. The rock of which the specimen on exhibition is a portion was assayed by Mr C M. Chambers of San Francisco, and foots up to $977 06 per ton of 2,000 lbs. A few hundred tons of this would administer a quietus to one's mundane troubles very happily.

NOTICE.—I take pleasure to inform Mr. E Watson's former customers, and particularly the Officers of the Fleet, that I have done all his Watch and Chronometer work for the past four years. As he has left the country, I beg to solicit the direct patronage of his former customers. All watch and fine clock work done for him by me, under one year, will be guaranteed by me. Attention paid also to Letter and Seal Engraving, at moderate prices. G. W. A. LANGE, Yates street. *

FOR NEW WESTMINSTER.—The steamer Enterprise left here at her usual hour yesterday morning for New Westminster. She had on board nine bags of mail matter, partly for the upper country — and the following amongst the passengers: Mrs. Brown and two children, Messrs. J. L. Franklin, Dickenson, Greiley, Connell, Cooney, and Captain Raymur.

NEW FIRM.—We have to call the attention of the business public of Victoria and the Province generally, to the announcement of Messrs. Norris & Wylly, who have entered into a partnership to conduct a Real Estate and General Agency; in conjunction with the same, they propose to carry on the duties of accountants, average adjusters, negotiators of loans, collectors of rents and debts, &c.

CONSECRATION OF THE NEW CATHEDRAL.—The order of services to be held on the 5th December in connection with the consecration of the new cathedral, is published in to-day's issue. On the following Sunday three services will be held, at each of which the congregation will be asked to contribute towards the Building Fund.

MUSICAL COMPOSITIONS.—Hibben & Co. receive periodical consignments of music to keep up their already complete stock. Ruth, a sacred song, music by Miss Davis, and Good-bye Charlie, a serio comic song, as sung by Cool Burgess the great, at the Alhambra, S. F., are among the latest publications.

DEAD.—Mr. George Hemmingway, a law clerk, for many years a resident of this city, died at half past six last evening. He has been ailing from dropsy for some time past. Deceased was a native of Derby, England, and was thirty-five years of age at his decease.

THE new organ just erected in Christ Church Cathedral was tried yesterday and found to work nicely. It is very powerful, and its tones may readily be heard a quarter of a mile away from the church.

IT is said that a measure for the establishment of a Supreme Court for the Dominion will be introduced during the approaching session ☞ Memory presides over the past. Fell's Coffee over the present. St. Andrew's and Caledonia Society Annual Dinner.

This annual festival took place at the Oriental Restaurant last evening. About sixty gentlemen sat down to dinner, prepared in the most recherche style by Mr. Eden White, the attentive and obliging host of the above establishment. The chair was occupied by the newly-installed President of the Society, R. P. Rithet, Esq. On his right sat His Excellency Lieutenant Governor Trutch and the Rev. S. McGregor, Chaplain of the Society, and on his left D Eckstein, Esq., U. S. Consul, and J. E. McMillan, Esq., Mayor of the city. Mr. Speaker Trimble, J. Robson, M P P., A. Bunster, M.P.P., C. Todd, M.P.P., J S. Thompson, M.P., R Lewis, Ex-Mayor, were also present. At a quarter past 7 o'clock the Rev. Mr. McGregor asked the usual blessing, when dinner was served. After justice had been done to the physical part of the programme, and the table was cleared, the following toasts were given and responded to: By the President—"The Queen,"—band played the "National Anthem." By the President—"Prince and Princess of Wales, and Royal Family"—Band "God bless the Prince of Wales." By the senior Vice-President, A. B. Gray, Esq., "Governor General of the Dominion"—Band, "Conquering Hero." By the Junior Vice-President, T. Russell, Esq., "President of the United States,"—Band, "Hail Columbia;" responded to by D Eckstein, Esq., U S Consul. By Rev. S. McGregor—"Lieutenant Governor"—Band "A man's a man for a' that;" responded to by His Excellency. By J. Robson, M.P P.—"Army, Navy and Volunteers," Band, "Rule Britannia," and song by J.P. Victoria and Esquimalt Railway.

Mr. Stephens, the engineer of the projected line which is intended to connect Victoria with Esquimalt, has made a survey and prepared the plans of the route. The line will start at this end, from the Johnston street ferry, Indian Reserve, pass close to the junction of the old and new Esquimalt roads, to the rear of the Bush Tavern, through Skinner's bottom, and will abut on Esquimalt harbor in the immediate vicinity of the Indian Reserve. A branch line is talked of, to run from a point on the main line, to Constance Cove, near to Esquimalt town. The trunk road will measure a little more than three miles. It will be seen that the route laid down by the former company, that of which the late J. J. Cochrane was engineer, is entirely abandoned; the new road is the shortest that could be selected.

Mechanics' Institute.

EDITOR STANDARD:—For several years I have wintered in Victoria, but the city now seems duller than at any time I can recollect. A man cannot go constantly to the theatre, and it gives but little subject for thought. Where are the instructive lectures that used to be given in the Institute? and where is the successful debating class that used to meet there. Not only myself but many others have very agreeable recollection of this class, and of the very valuable reading which it encouraged.

Is Victoria intellectually poorer than formerly, or have her intellects gone to sleep, that such an institution as this is allowed to die? I can name more than a dozen of men who will join the Institute if this class were only running, and I am sure the intelligent people of Victoria will give it their support. Might I solicit your valuable aid to induce the Committee of the Institute to call a public meeting to consider the advisability of forming such a class?

A MINER.

The Pacific Railway

Our French Canadian contemporary, Le Nouveau Monde, has the following:—

"We read in the Toronto Leader of Saturday, in an article on the Pacific Railway, in which it is indicted that the Government propose to incorporate a new company without delay. It seems to be generally admitted that the two companies incorporated during the last Session of Parliament, namely, The Canadian Pacific Co, and the Interoceanic Railway Co., of Canada, have failed to implement the conditions of their charters distinct organizations; or to amalgamate with each other, as they had the power to do, in order to put themselves in a position to treat with the Government for the construction of the Canadian Pacific Railway. It is evident that the capital has not been subscribed and that the 10 p 100 has not been paid up nor is likely to be. It appears also that an amalgamation, so long delayed, is now out of the question. The newspapers of the Maritime Provinces have announced with a semi-official air, that, in consequence of the lack of ability on the part of the two companies, the Government is going to take advantage of the power it possesses if incorporating a new company, with a view to calling upon the public to subscribe the capital, as well as to meet the wishes of Canadian capitalists, who may wish to take part in this enterprise, and thus prove to the general satisfaction, that there exists no favouritism, and that no political clique can, under the auspices of the Government, control this great undertaking. There is not the least doubt but this will be a step in the right direction."

The Haro Ch[illegible]

[Toronto Leader of Nov 9th.]

Several gentlemen interested in British Columbia have been writing to the London Times about the San Juan boundary question. T. Sproat, agent general of British Columbia, Mr. G. M. Sproat, in a letter to that journal of the 26 ult., puts the case very well. Believing that it is no use crying over spilt milk, and bowing to the decision of the arbitrator, he nevertheless shows the absurdity of the Haro Channel being fixed as a boundary, and with what reason the people of that Province have to be dissatisfied with the award. One significant remark he makes:—"The future of Canada on the Pacific cannot be said to have been decided at Berlin." This is true; the award may hamper the marine trade of Vancouver, but it cannot prevent that island and the adjacent continent from developing into an important maritime province. Its situation, its connexion with the Dominion of Canada, its contiguity to the East, all conspire to make it one of the most promising of young colonies, and where conditions like these exist, it is not trifles, like the loss of San Juan, will stand in the way. As Mr. Sproat says, the difficulties of the channel will simply reduce the question to one of tonnage. "The Haro passage alone must now be used by British vessels, the larger class of which having hitherto used both the Rosario and Haro passages. Vessels that formerly sailed through the Rosario passage, must in future be towed through the Haro." This seems to be the amount of the physical difficulty which the award has created for shipping. As regards the military difficulty, and the importance of San Juan as a strategetic point, we, in a former article have pointed out that that is to be overcome by seeing that the United States do not fortify the island, which act would be a deliberate menace against the western Province of Canada. Mr. Sproat thinks that fortifications there would be harmless, from their liability to be attacked in front and rear by British ironclads, and from the fact that Canada has several roads to the sea in that quarter. As the new state of matters may necessitate the presence of a small British fleet at Esquimalt, the agent-general says that British Columbia is willing to give £50,000 or £60 000 towards the construction of a naval dock at that harbor, which is a bold offer from such a young colony. Supposing that peaceful relations continue to subsist between Great Britain and America, the possession of San Juan by the latter may, after all, prove but a matter of the utmost insignificance. Intrinsically, the Island is worth nothing, although it would have been infinitely more valuable to us than it can possibly be to the Americans. Some day we may be able to trade something in exchange for it, and we are not without hope that we shall yet possess it What if we should swap the Fenian claims for its possession, or at least for the right to navigate the various channels to all time?

The Case of The "Naworth."

(From the Portland Bulletin 25th.

In the advertising column of the Portland Daily Herald of yesterday appears this:

A CARD

My attention has just been called to a paragraph in the Bulletin stating that officers of the bark Norworth had no complaint to make against the pilots on the Bar of the Columbia river for her long detention there. The Naworth was four times inside the limits of the pilot grounds, and on one occasion inside the outer buoy. Had there been a proper pilot service my ship would have come in and by this time have been on her homeward voyage.

JOHN KELLY,
Master bark Naworth

A few words will explain the blunder or misstatement complained of. The reporter who wrote the paragraph in question has been dismissed from the Bulletin establishment. Weather he was imposed upon, or sought to impose upon the public, it matters little—his blunder or misstatement was too censurable to be patiently borne. The Bulletin intends always to publish facts as they occur. It may sometimes be cast into erroneous reports or false statements, as every journal in the world is, but it will right every such wrong to the utmost that can be done in each case, and at the same time adopt means so far as possible to guard against the repetition of wrong. And since the appearance of Captain Kelly's card, copied above, we have received statements from other responsible parties which are entirely corroborative of what Captain Kelly states.

That the Columbia Bar pilotage, as managed by the parties who own and run the tug-boat, is a disgrace to the State and a serious detriment to the commerce of Portland, we have been long aware. * * * * *

The Home and Foreign Trade of the Canadian Dominion.

It appears from a pamphlet issued as a supplement to the Gazette of Montreal, and compiled by Mr. William J. Patterson, that the trade of the Dominion shows an advance in the year ended the 30th June, 1871, over the returns of the previious year, especially in the imports. The value of the goods entered for consumption in 1869-70 was $71,237,603 (£14.250,000 sterling), and in 1870-71 it was $86,947.482 (£17,400,000); while the exports were $73.573.490 (£14,700,000), and $74,173,618 (£14.800,000) in the two years respectively The import duties collected in 1869-70 amounted to $9,462,940 (£1,900,000) and in 1870-71 to $11,843,655 (£2,400,000) exhibiting the important increase of half-a-million sterling. In 1870-71 imports from Great Britain were $49,168 170 (£9,800,000), showing an increase of 21½ per cent; and those from the United States were $29,022,387, showing an increase of 17½ per cent. The exports however, in that year to Great Britain—$24,173,324 (£4.800,000)—and to the United States —$30,975,642 (£6,200,000)—exhibited a slight decline. The exports to the British west Indies and to Cuba at the same time increased. The principal exports, in the order of their magnitude, may be thus set forth;—Produce of forests, $22,353, 211; produce of animals, $12,582,925; agricultural produce, $9.853,156; coin and bullion, $6,690,350; produce of fisheries, $3,994,275; produce of mines, $3,221,451; manufactures, $3,221,461. The internal revenue increased from $4,410,816 in 1869-70, to $5,128,904 in 1870-71.

The Delay in our Eastern Mails Rectified.

On several occasions recently, have complaints been made elsewhere (as well as in B. Columbia,) and forwarded to the post office Department at Ottowa that letters mailed in Canada and elsewhere for China and Japan failed frequently to reach their destination, by the same steamers that carry New York advices of the same date. Inquiry was made into the matter by Mr. Gilbert Griffin, the Post Office Inspector of this Division writes the Toronto Leader of Nov, 14th and he has, we learn, succeeded in making an improved arrangement whereby the probable cause of the delay complained of is removed. In future Windsor becomes the sole forwarding office in Canada for matter for China and Japan. Windsor will forward such matter daily o Detroit, and Detroit, in like manner, reforward daily to San Francisco, where the mails for these distant countries are finally made up for conveyance by the steamship leaving the port for Yokohama and Hong Kong on the first and 15th of each month. Hitherto Windsor, instead of transferring these letters to Detroit at once, was obliged to retain them up to certain fixed dates, calculated closely on the time the American mails were supposed to take in reaching California. We presume the change effected will necessarily embrace the transmission of the mails posted for this Province.

Boston Rebuilding.

A late dispatch from Boston states the confidence grows stronger that both the home and foreign insurance companies will in time liquidate their debt. Another dispatch adds: The effect on the money market and general business by the late fire must continue to be felt in a serious degree for many months. While money is not quoted easier than yesterday, it is anything but very close. As a more cheerful feeling is manifested throughout financial circles and merchants are becoming more confident, the serious apprehensions and doubts regarding many of the sufferers is rapidly abating and current business is gradually working back into its accustomed channels. The banks are steadily recovering, and in many instances report deposits on the increase. There is some inquiry for commercial paper, and as the fears of investors are allayed by the general speedy wheeling into line of parties who have been burnt out, an early demand for undoubted grades may be looked for. The majority of sales made today were at 12 per cent, and highly satisfactory notes can be had at that figure, though old prime favorites are held much higher and are not offered in open market. Steady progress is reported in respect to the work in clearing the burnt district. Already a one-story wooden store, 60 by 144 feet, has been erected and furnished with window frames and is being sheathed with sheet-iron on the outsides. This building stands upon the burnt area on Oliver and High streets and must be chronicled as the first edifice put up in the burnt district. A half dozen others have been begun close by, and by the end of the week quite a village of temporary structures will be located in the vicinity known as Fort Hill. These buildings will not be in blocks, but each separate.

DEATH OF HON. MARSHALL S. BIDWELL.—We learn that this eminent lawyer, who played so important a part in the political struggles which led to the rebellion in Upper Canada, and who was banished from the country by Sir F. Bond Head, for alleged complicity in that movement, died at New York on the 24th ult., aged seventy-four.

A FRIEND IN NEED!

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS

WONDERFUL CURE OF ASTHMA OF 18 YEARS STANDING.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Ferdinand Mc Devett Innkeeper & Grocer, Glentics, Co. Donegal, dated 4th March, 1861.

To Professor Holloway.

Sir,—I suffered from asthma for 18 years, accompanied with great difficulty of breathing, and severe cough with spitting of blood. I was also afflicted with Piles. At different times I was treated by most skilful physicians, and was at length pronounced by them to be beyond cure;—as a last resource, I was induced to use your Pills and Ointment, and in the short space of a fortnight could walk about, and am now perfectly cured, to the astonishment of all who knew me.

BLOOD TO THE HEAD WITH GIDDINESS.

Copy of a letter from Mrs. Mary Foster. Hæf Moon Street, Totness, dated March 16th 1861.

To Professor Holloway.

Sir,—For many years I suffered periodically headache, and giddiness in the head, to such a degree that at times I have scarcely been able to walk; after obtaining the best medical advice without effect, I tried your Pills and in less than a week I was completely cured. Mrs. Donnal, Chemist, of Totness, can vouch for the truth of the above statement.

COMPLAINTS OF WOMEN AND CHILDREN.

The very mild and painless action of these invaluable Pills, recommends them to every household as a remedy for the early departures from health. Any mother, nurse, or young person guided by the direction which accompany each box of Holloway's Pills, has at once available means for checking disease, qualifying the blood, and expelling from the system all gross humors. They are, indeed, at all ages, the tried females friend.

DISORDERS OF THE KIDNEYS & OTHER INTERNAL ORGANS.

Loss of appetite and flatulency are usually the forerunners of stomachic disease. These famous Pills exercise the most salutary power in all affections of the liver, and irregularities of the stomach and bowels; they restore a healthy function to every internal organ, overcome all obstructions, and cast out all impurities.

THE ACTION OF THE KIDNEYS & OTHER INTERNAL ORGANS.

The immediate loss of muscular strength and nervous energy is more particularly remarkable in renal than in most other diseases. Their deficient action for one day suffices to produce fever, hence the necessity for prompt and efficient treatment. Holloway's Pills have the great merit of restoring any suspended or diminished secretion, and of relieving any inflammation or congestion in the spleen, kidneys, or other subsidiary organs.

The tight, suffocating, anxious feeling caused by derangement of the heart, makes the sufferer look on present death as imminent. Holloway's Pills prove an efficient and ready remedy when the disturbed circulation depends on indigestion flatulency, or debilitated nervous vigor. Persons suffering from disturbance of the heart should take about six of these Pills two or three times a week, according to circumstances, to arrest the too active action of the heart.

WEAKNESS, LANGOUR AND DEBILITY.

These famous Pills will immediately remove all symptoms of debility, langour and weakness as they act upon the main springs of life, and thus save thousands from premature grave.

Holloway's Pills are the best remedy known in the world for the following diseases:—

Ague	Inflammation
Asthma	Jaundice
Bilious Complaints	Liver Complaints
Blotches on the Skin	Lumbago
Bowel Complaints	Piles
Colics	Rheumatism
Constipation of the Bowels	Retention of Urine
Consumption	Scrofula, or King's Evil
Debility	Sore Throats
Dropsy	Stone and Gravel
Dysentery	Secondary Symptoms
Erysipelas	Tic-Douloureux
Female Irregularities	Tumours
Fevers of all kinds	Ulcers
Fits	Venereal Affections
Gout	Worms of all kinds
Head-ache	Weakness, from whatever cause &c., &c.
Indigestion
